The Hidden Psychology of Carousels.

Not design.

Not trends.

BUT HOW:

Our brain works

CURIOSITY GAP →
We hate
unfinished stories.
“What’s next?”
keeps us swiping.

DOPAMINE HITS →

Every reveal gives a tiny reward.

Our brain wants more.

SIMPLICITY →

Our brain loves easy processing.

Simple slides = longer attention.

STORYTELLING →

Facts inform.

Stories connect.

That's why emotions
keep us hooked.

MICRO-COMMITMENTS →

Each swipe feels small.
But small actions =
deeper investment.

PATTERN RECOGNITION →

Our brain craves flow.

Good hierarchy =
smooth journey.

THE TRUTH?

Carousels aren't just
"pretty slides."
They're psychology in action.
